

Task 3.

You are studying abroad and your friends are talking about going on a short holiday. You are looking at various websites to help them with some ideas. Match the situations (1-5) with the texts (A-I). One situation has no match. Use the ☹ for this. There is an example (0) for you.

	Situation	Best choice
0	Sandra would like to relax at an all-inclusive resort.	B
1	Elisa and Peter love great food and visiting busy cities.
2	Jason loves being with his family, hiking and exploring remote places.
3	Martha and John would like to take their children fishing.
4	Boris would like to do some volunteer work during the short break.
5	Sandra loves contemporary music and festivals.

A) The city's concept boutiques, cafés, and the fact it's walking distance as well as bike-friendly, all contribute towards having a relaxing holiday for two. The pastel-coloured houses, and many waterways of this maritime city make it aesthetically very romantic.

B) The contemporary 5-star Casa Grande is just a few minutes from Hospirca. Treat yourself to everything from Asian to Mediterranean cuisines in the on-site restaurants, relax with a drink in one of 7 bars or take a dip in one of the pools.

C) Several artists and thousands of visitors are coming to the Sergamo Festival organised here. Performers include three of the world's great orchestras. Stellar performers include French and British conductors and soprano Brünhilde Ecker of Germany.

D) Two cottages rented together as one. Comfortable for 2-5 persons. Cosy accommodation with a great view in a peaceful and beautiful environment. Hlíð is a great location for outdoor activities and trips in the neighbouring national park. Information leaflets on the magical nature of the area and interesting day trips are on the coffee table.

E) Tiny cottage, one room, small terrace, situated in a clearing in an area of forest, close to Lagarfljot River and two rather splendid lakes. Very secluded and private with beautiful surroundings. There is one bedroom in the house with one double bed. Note that there is no shower in the house as it is very minimalist.

F) One of the world's biggest and most celebrated music and art festivals, enjoyed by and likened to Glastonbury makes its return with huge global stars. This year, it will play host to some of the most renowned names in music today across more than 50 stages.

G) Registering secures you accommodation and all your meals without charge. In return, adults and kids alike do chores and work together harmoniously to ensure the smooth running of the camp during the day. The projects run from 9am to 5pm on Saturday and then we work on Sunday morning from 9am to noon

H) Chaotic, bustling and completely fascinating, Monterotici is a city like no other and an obvious nomination as one of the best city breaks for couples. There's so much to see and experience that you'll need regular refueling; fortunately, Monterotici does cuisine extremely well!

I) We need volunteers to sort donated food and pack boxes to deliver to clients. Family packing days take place five times a month. We need you to sign up to help us for a longer period. One orientation session is obligatory.
